For the team in the office—Mr. W. Willard Woodard, Principal, and Mrs. Rosa Brandon, Secretary, there is no tranquility. Practically everything goes on in the office. Surrounded by glass, wide and spacious, with seven doors opening into it and three telephones in the adjoining rooms, it offers many untold interests to the curiosity seekers; comfort for the sick or injured; retribution for the mischievous; retrospection for the teachers; endless duplicated tests and problems for the students; money boxes for the collectors; tickets for whatever happens; announcements for the events ahead; water for the thirsty; mimeographed blanks for requisitions; an endless array of files for permanent records; a bench for resting; journals for anyone with time for reading; sympathy from the nurse; help from Mrs. Brandon; advice and understanding from Mr. Woodard; headaches for everybody, and no place to hide!

COACHING STAFF

Mr. Paul Marklin in his three years as head coach has succeeded in building several championship teams. For the past two years, he has served as President of the Eastern AAAA Conference, having been elected by other members of the conference. This year he was also chosen to coach the East team in the East-West All-Star Game in Greensboro.

Mr. Bill Weir has played a vital part in the coaching staff for the past seven years. His work with the football team has been essential to their success. His good-natured personality makes him popular with all that know him.

Mr. Gilbert Ferrell, in his third year as head baseball coach, has proved himself to be a capable and worthy member of the coaching staff. His work in other sports has been of the greatest value.

Mr. Bill Eanes, in his third year, has shown himself to be a well-liked and competent member of the coaching staff.

Mr. Paul Blake, in his first year with the coaching staff, has added greatly to the tremendous effort put forth by the entire staff to achieve the success with which our entire sports program is carried out.

CHEERLEADERS

"Ya'll yell now!" comes the cry of a head cheerleader! And then the spontaneous cry, "Everybody happy, anybody blue? Then fifteen 'rahs' should pull us through!" This cheer, along with dozens of others, helped build the enthusiasm and spirit that gave our team such a good record this year. Giving their all at the pep rallies and games, the cheerleaders were admired by everyone. The little mascot, Alice Flowers, was adored by all, especially the cheerleaders. The blue and white skirts and sweatshirts on the field made our spirits rise, as with their cheers, they inspired our teams to victory.

On August 15, 1961, about seventy football candidates reported for the first practice at Fike. The prospects looked good although thirteen of last year's fourteen starters, either on offense or defense, had graduated last June. Nevertheless, there were sixteen lettermen returning to the squad who would be counted on heavily, as a new season got underway. The returning veterans were ends: Edwards, Boykin, Beland, and Davis; Tackles: Bunn and Tillery; Guards: Connor, Morris, and Boykin; Quarterbacks: Thompson and Barnes; Halfbacks: Collins and Wainwright; Fullbacks: Horne and Vick.

The Cyc gridders worked hard in summer practice and by the time the season opened with a non-conference game against Washington, they were in excellent physical condition. This preparation and the tremendous spirit of the Cyclones paid off when they crushed the larger Pampack 21-0. In the first conference game with Goldsboro a week later, the Fike chargers romped to a 34-0 win over the Earthquakes. Their next contest was with Raleigh who was considered a prime contender for the conference championship. It was a hard-fought game all the way, and the Cyps went into the last quarter trailing 7-6. Then with but three minutes left to play, the Cyclones, in an outstanding display of teamwork and courage, scored on a pass from Thompson to Kenneth Boykin and defeated the Caps 12-7. The following week, the team journeyed to Kinston where they overwhelmed the non-conference Red Devils 21-0.

The spirits were high in the Wilson camp as Marklin's chargers prepared for the next conference game with Durham. The Cyc gridders were determined to avenge last year's defeat in a sea of mud. The Durham offense was highly rated, but the unyielding defense and unbeatable spirit of the Cyclones enabled them to secure an 8-6 win over the Bulldogs.

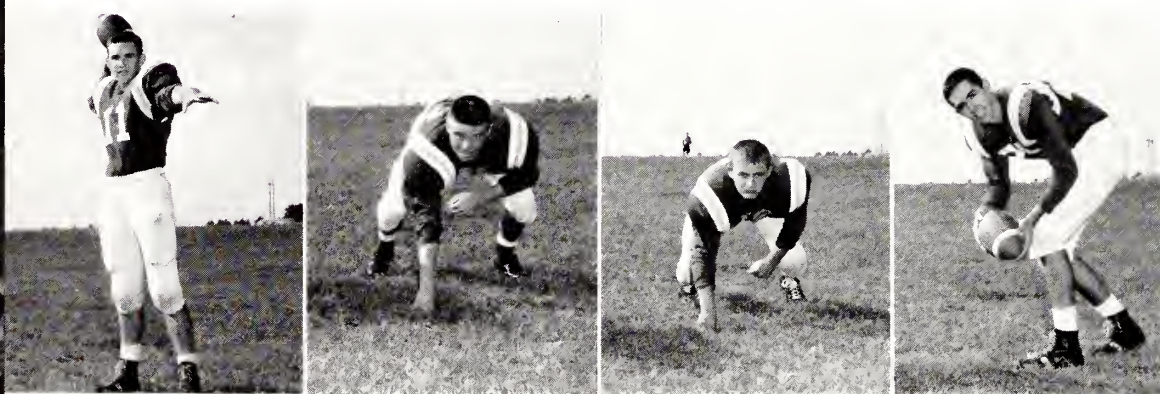

The following Friday saw the game with Rocky Mount postponed because of weather conditions, but in the Saturday night contest that followed the Cys crushed the arch-rival Blackbirds 26-7 to regain possession of the Shelton-Looms Trophy which had been relinquished to Rocky Mount last season.

The Homecoming event with always-strong Fayetteville was an exciting affair in which the Cyc machine swung into gear and completely outclassed the Bulldogs in the second half to cop a 34-6 victory.

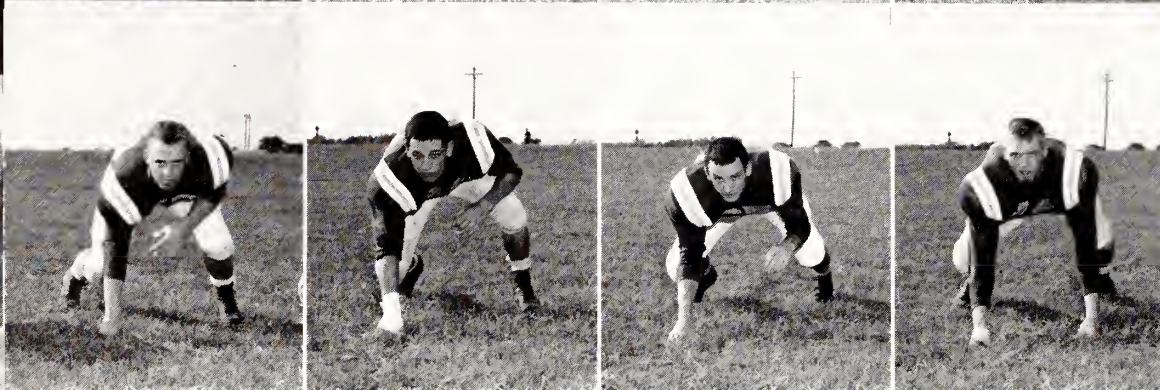

The next week the boys gave all they had in preparation for the crucial game with Wilmington where a victory would sew up the Eastern AAAA Conference championship. The Cyclones' superb defense along with brilliant offensive play enabled them to return with the conference crown, whipping the Wildcats 20-6.

The year's first loss came at the hands of the non-conference foe, Greenville. The Cyc chargers failed to hold a one-touchdown lead and the Phantoms, with a last quarter score, won by a single point, 20-19. A tired Cyclone team ventured to Raeford for the last game of the regular season. Hampered by injuries to key personnel, the Cyc gridders lost to the non-conference Bucs 20-14. A little of the tremendous spirit had faded away.

Wilson played host to Winston-Salem's Reynolds in the playoff game to decide who would play in the State AAAA championship game. After a two weeks' stretch in which to recuperate, the Cyc warriors played with their old spirit and enthusiasm. The Wilson chargers gave it all they had, but an eighty-five yard punt return and a field goal by the Black Demons spelled the winning margin, as they squeezed past us, 9-7.

Cheerleaders pep it up!

One of the most looked-forward-to events of the football season, Homecoming, was met with eager anticipation and elaborate preparation. This year, for the first time, we elected a Homecoming Queen, who was crowned in a colorful halftime ceremony. The parade, with its splendid floats, the bonfire pep rally, the crowning of the queen, and of course, the thrilling gridiron victory made our Homecoming a day to remember.

Never could a town show more enthusiasm and loyalty for a team than Wilson has in the past few years. Fans turned out by the thousands. Two trains of thirty-one coaches—the largest number ever chartered for a high school game—carried the crowds to Wilmington for the game. Excitement ran high throughout the whole area. The boys were feted on many occasions. The Homecoming game with Fayetteville and the championship game with Reynolds were the highlights of the 1960 season.

With the return of five veterans, all lettermen, and excellent prospects in some juniors, Coach Marklin's team looked as if it were in for a good season. The five seniors were C. Barnes, P. Barnes, J. Davis, K. Boykin, and B. Lamm. Each returning player had valuable skill from last year when the Cyclones made the second best showing in Wilson's history by advancing to the AAAA semi-finals. But the big black mark of no height cut down the chances for a big season.

The Cys have shown good spirit and fight in every game, although they have lost several. The team has looked excellent on the court with fine handling of the ball, but the defense, short of height, has unbalanced the team in victories.

Because of the loss of some Junior Varsity players to the Varsity this year, the squad had to come from behind and build up. The Junior Varsity traveled with the Varsity in almost every game, playing the preliminary games with the opposing Junior Varsity teams. The potential in winning was not great, but the squad came through with a few wins at the beginning of the season. As the yearbook goes to press, and as experience is being gained, the squad looks forward to a good season.

Spring is not here yet, but, as the book goes to press, Head Baseball Coach Gilbert Ferrell is looking forward to that first day of baseball practice. The turnout this year should be good, although the team has lost six men through graduation. Some of the veterans are: first base, Donnie Mattox; shortstop, Carlton Barnes; outfield, Jerry Carter, Carlton Beland, George Wainwright, Bobby Langley, Steve Sakas, James Matthews, Howard Edwards; catchers, Ken Boykin and George Massey. Some of the juniors coming up this year, such as Rogers, Elliot, and Shackelford are going to be great competition for some of the veterans.

Last year's record was very good, with ten wins and two losses. They beat Wilmington for the first time in four years. The team went to the State AAAA Conference game but lost to East Mecklenburg 3-2.

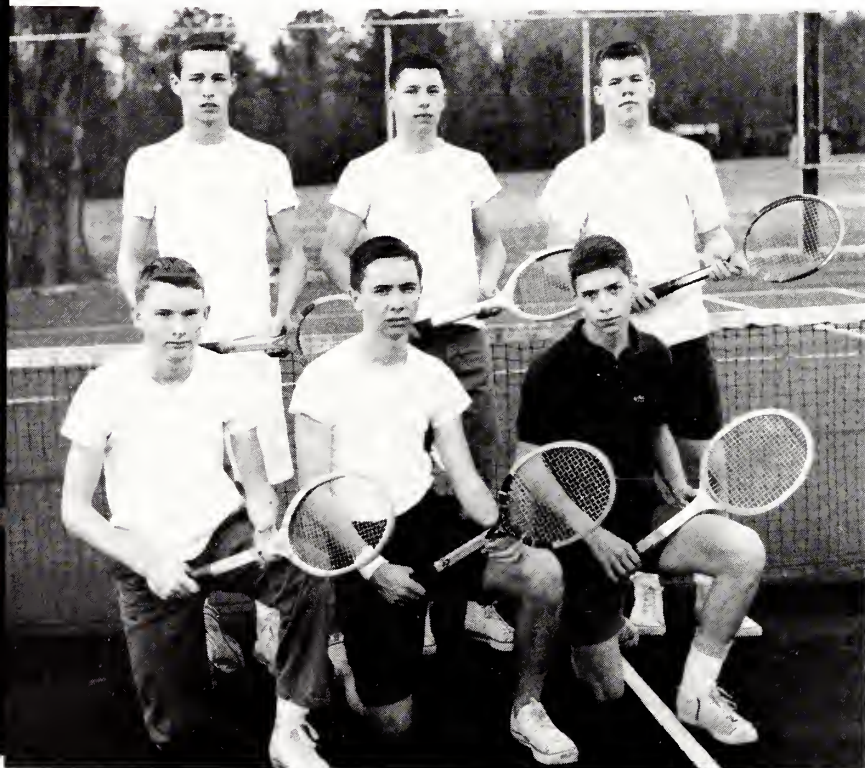

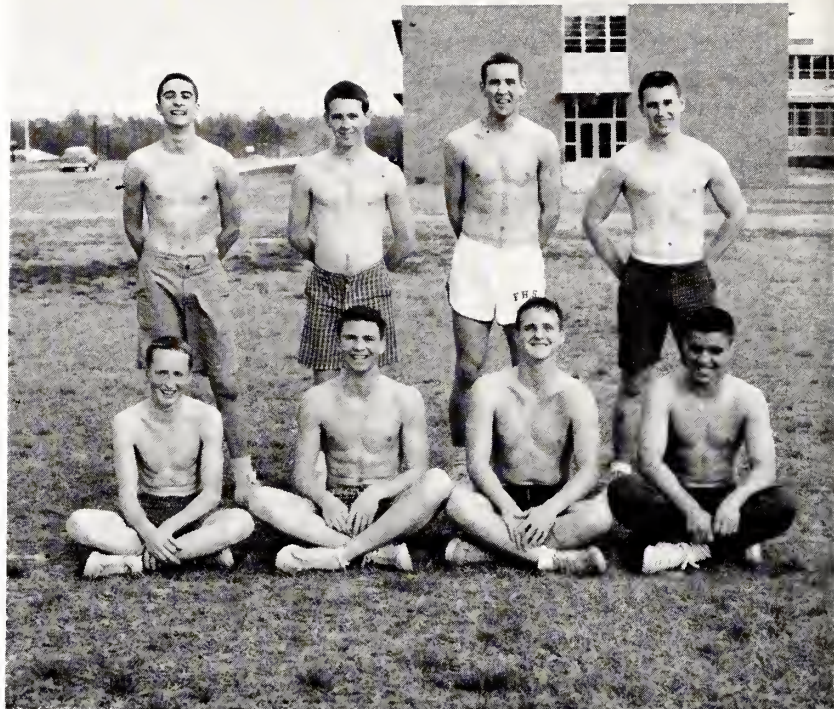

This year looks even better than last year and with good team work, the boys could go all the way.

TRACK '61

Under the competent leadership of Coaches Marklin and Weir, the track team has progressed since beginning conference competition last year. With more experience and many more participants, this year's track team should better last year's record. To the right are some of the boys on this year's team.

TENNIS

The tennis team is losing more boys than in past years, but is looking for a successful year. There were four to graduate and one who will not be here for the games. The only veteran to come back will be Andrew Edwards. A good prospect for the year is Knox McMillan, and the team is looking forward to more tryouts.

Leading the band in street parades and performing with it in half-time shows are the drum major, Whitfield Lee, and the eight talented, energetic majorettes, under the competent leadership of Donna Williams. They have added much color and liveliness to the appearance of our band.

This past summer the majorettes could be seen at the Greenville Band and Majorette Camp. The new routines and fundamentals that they learned helped give our majorette corps an excellent variety of entertainment this year. The result of Majorette Camp and long hard hours of practice could be seen as these eight high-stepping girls performed with agile precision at various functions of the band. The majorettes with their colorful dress uniforms of blue and white or their Christmas ones of red and white added much to the enjoyment of the crowd and the excitement of the season.

ACCOLADE STAFF 1961

When the senior class chose us to be on the editorial staff of the 1961 ACCOLADE, we felt honored to have our classmates place such confidence in our ability. It was not long, however, before we realized that there was more work than honor attached to portraying the story of a year at Fike High School. With no experience and with no time to work on the book except after school hours, and with the desire to keep up our high scholastic standards, and also to be in the center of everything happening, we found it difficult to settle down to the drab drudgery of working behind the scenes, instigating activities and trying to push people toward fast-approaching deadlines. Drawing layouts, gathering props for pictures, planning pictures, identifying them, and writing and revising copy, we discovered was very detailed and tedious. Wistfully we watched the crowds go home at 3:15; those of us who stayed settled down to work hard until dark. Miss Lela Aycock, facing again another entirely new force, had to acquaint us with the complicated work facing us. She tried to inspire us to put forth our best efforts and produce a book comparable to or even better than those that have preceded it.

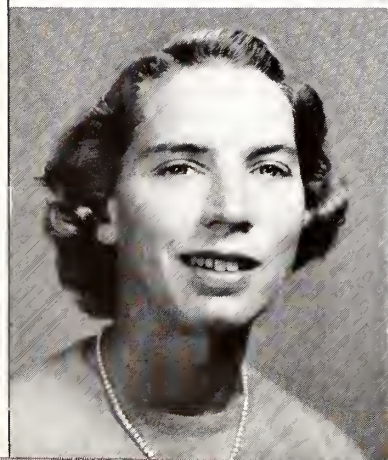

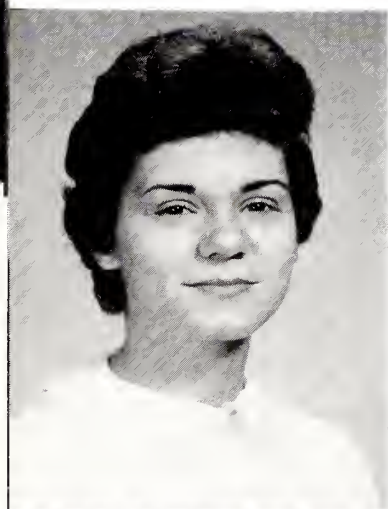

Now that the 1961 ACCOLADE is in your possession, we hope that you like it and that whenever you pick it up, now, or in the years to come, that echoes of the joys of this year will ever "vibrate in your memory."

The Editorial Staff lives it up at "Lela's Lodge!"

BUSINESS STAFF OF ACCOLADE—1961

Last fall fourteen members of the senior class were chosen to be on the business staff of the ACCOLADE. They were all honored to receive such recognition and plunged into the challenging task before them. In groups of two, the members set out on their mission of selling ads to help defray the expense of the 1961 ACCOLADE. They spent many hours in the afternoons walking the streets and going from one business firm to another. They realized that they were to serve as ambassadors of good will in making new friends for the school. They set the deadline for selling ads for January, and they realized that January was arriving earlier this year than they had ever remembered before. In some places, as always, they met with rebuffs; but they also made new friends who were glad to buy ads. After the task of selling and collecting was concluded, they had to draw off pages, type them, collect mats, and balance the books. With the help of their experienced adviser, Miss Virginia Knowles, they finished their job and did their part to give the students a book which would bring them "echoes of the year just o'er."

After school, the Business Staff leaves to sell ads.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, which is composed of homeroom representatives with Mr. Alsey Stott as adviser, did a splendid job for the entire school this year.

Getting off to a good start, the members presented the first program which emphasized school spirit.

Next, the Council members worked in the concession stands to raise the needed funds to carry on this year's work. The most important duty of the Council was planning and executing a successful Homecoming celebration. Planning the float, the parade, and the half-time entertainment and selecting sponsors—all were the responsibility of the Council. Climaxing the day was a dance in the Recreation Center.

After Homecoming the Student Council sponsored the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. Many committees were organized to carry out this project which proved to be successful and highly entertaining. Patricia Bridgers and George Jenkins won the costume prizes.

This year the members decided to give a Christmas Party for fifteen children. Even Santa came to this party and brought surprises for each child. The joy received by the Council members amply repaid them for their efforts.

As always, the Council held Quiet Week before mid-term examinations. Immediately after the examinations were over, the Student Council helped the March of Dimes Drive by giving a dance. The profits from this and the money collected in each homeroom was turned over to the local March of Dimes office.

In the middle of February, the traditional Student-Faculty basketball games took place. Members of the Student Council worked hard to make this a memorable night, even though the faculty won both games.

The annual election of officers for the incoming year drew the activities of the Student Council to a close.

Writing the copy, placing the pictures, marking off the ads, keeping within the budget, proofreading—all make up the newspaper staff's mad, frantic scramble to meet a deadline eight times a year.

The Fike Hi-Zette was headed this year by Stancil Barnes, Editor-in-Chief. The editorial staff was responsible to Ann Von Miller and Reide Watson, whose duties consisted of seeing that all news stories and feature articles were covered, written up, turned in, and checked. Dottie Bullock and Alice Shepard headed the business and advertising phase of the paper, which included soliciting ads, circulation, and finances. Donna Williams and Gloria Barker serve as Senior Supervisors.

The paper which comes out once a month includes school news, special features, and editorials. It tries to present an accurate picture of each month's school life. It also recognizes students' achievements.

One phase of preparation for staff members this year included a trip to the U. N. C. workshop, where they learned the latest in journalistic procedures.

Each year in April the paper puts out a literary edition which consists of the best short stories, poems, and essays written by Fike High students and entered by their teachers. The Fike Hi-Zette attempts to give its readers not only the events of the school year, but also some of the best examples of student writing in order to make them feel that they have an active part in their school newspaper.

The glory of seeing one's name in print, the thrill of having one's accomplishments appreciated, the pride in seeing the school recognized—all make the day happy when the Fike Hi-Zette comes out.

Some of the notable services the Key Club has rendered this year include the following: helping at the Kiwanis Horse Show, collecting food and toys for Christmas opportunities and magazines for Sanatorium patients, and keeping the school grounds clean.

Other activities, in which the Key Club participated, were holding concession stands, attending church regularly, giving the Key-Keyette banquet, entering a prize-winning float in the Homecoming parade, and sponsoring a semi-formal dance for the first time.

Other annual affairs included regularly attending community churches, having the joint Key-Keyette and Mother-Daughter banquets, and entering a prize-winning float in the Homecoming parade.

In addition, this year's agenda consisted of drawing up a satisfactory constitution, and playing host at a supper to the Farmville Keyette Club. As usual this club put forth much effort, and the members received great satisfaction in rendering many services to the school and community.

C. Burt, J. Blackman, D. Fernald meet Marine Band Leaders after the concert.

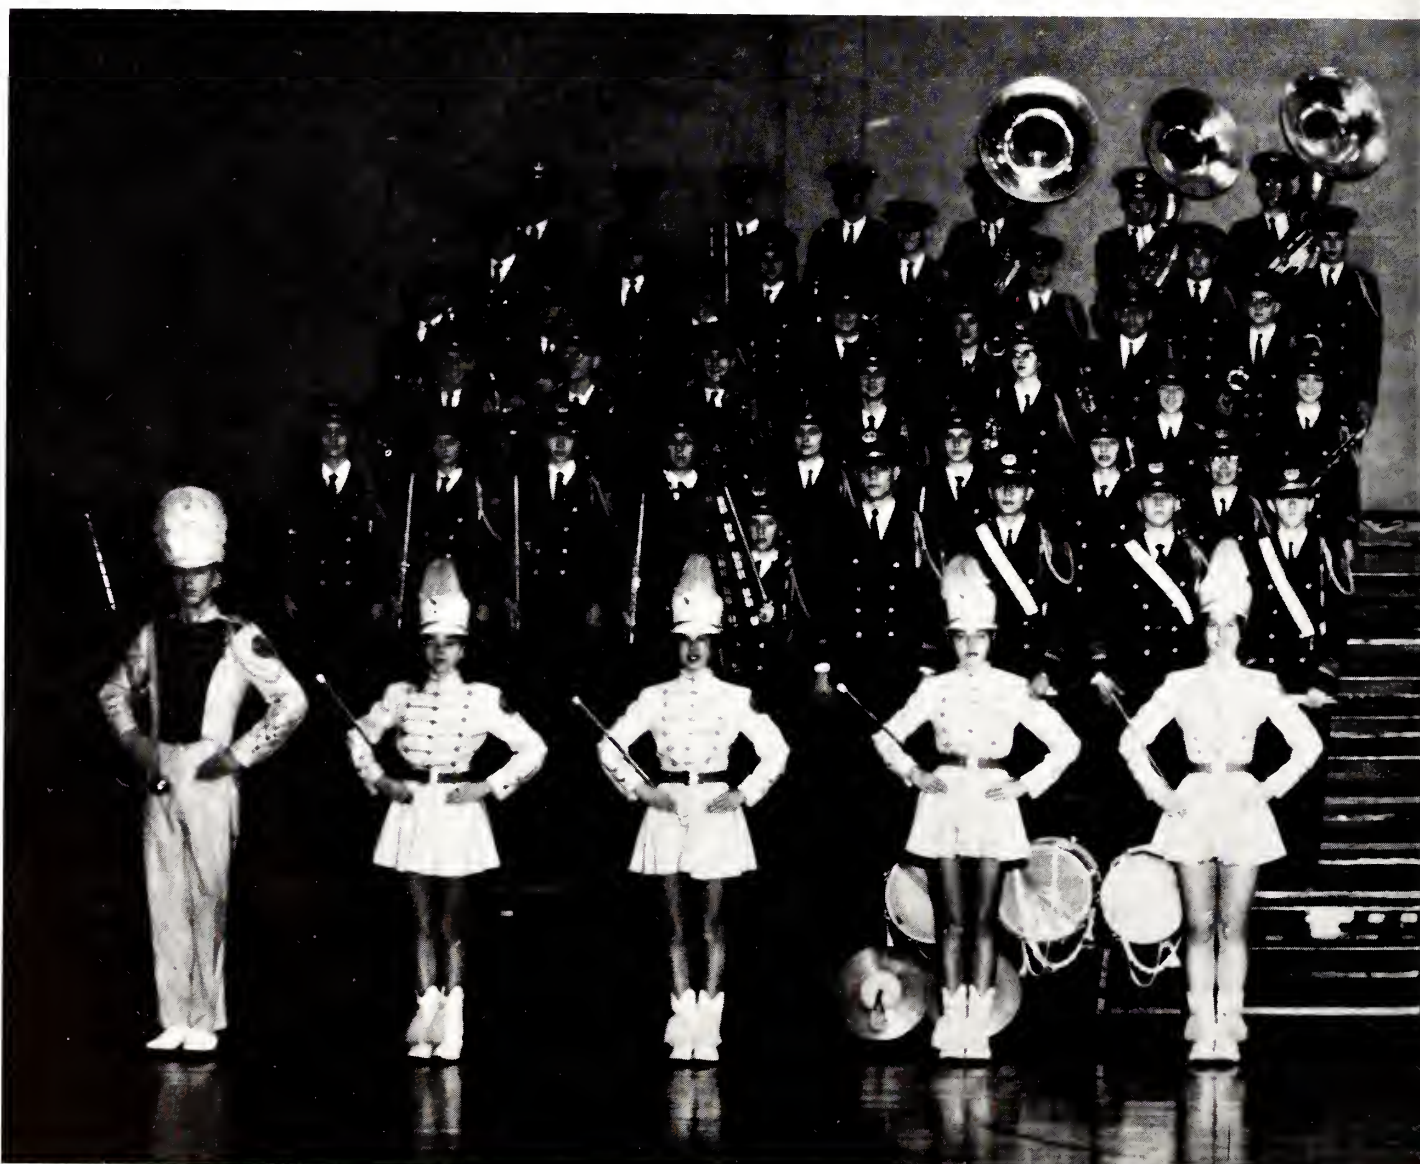

A moving mass of blue and gold, the flash of shining instruments, over one hundred pairs of feet moving in precise rhythm, the stirring tempo of a march—all are synonymous with the appearance of the Ralph L. Fike Varsity Band at football games and in parades.

Mr. Raymond Babelay, in his second year as band director, continues to provide the excellent leadership, which together with hard work, produces a wonderful showing. Special emphasis on precision drill and marching resulted in many fine half-time shows and parade performances which paid off with invitations to many special events such as the Tarboro Centennial and the Azalea Festival in Wilmington.

The band was also asked to greet Presidential Nominee, John F. Kennedy, when he arrived in Greenville during his campaign tour, and it took part in numerous parades and events, both in Wilson and other towns.

The band was a constant source of pep and enthusiasm at football games, cheering our team to victory. The pep band, conducted by drum major, Whitfield Lee, was a vital part of honor day programs and pep rallies, boosting the spirit of the assemblies with marches and fight songs.

After the football season the band turned its attention to preparing serious music for the District Band Contest in Greenville and the Spring Concert. Both of these performances require the utmost in musical skill which comes only after countless hours of practice and tedious preparation.

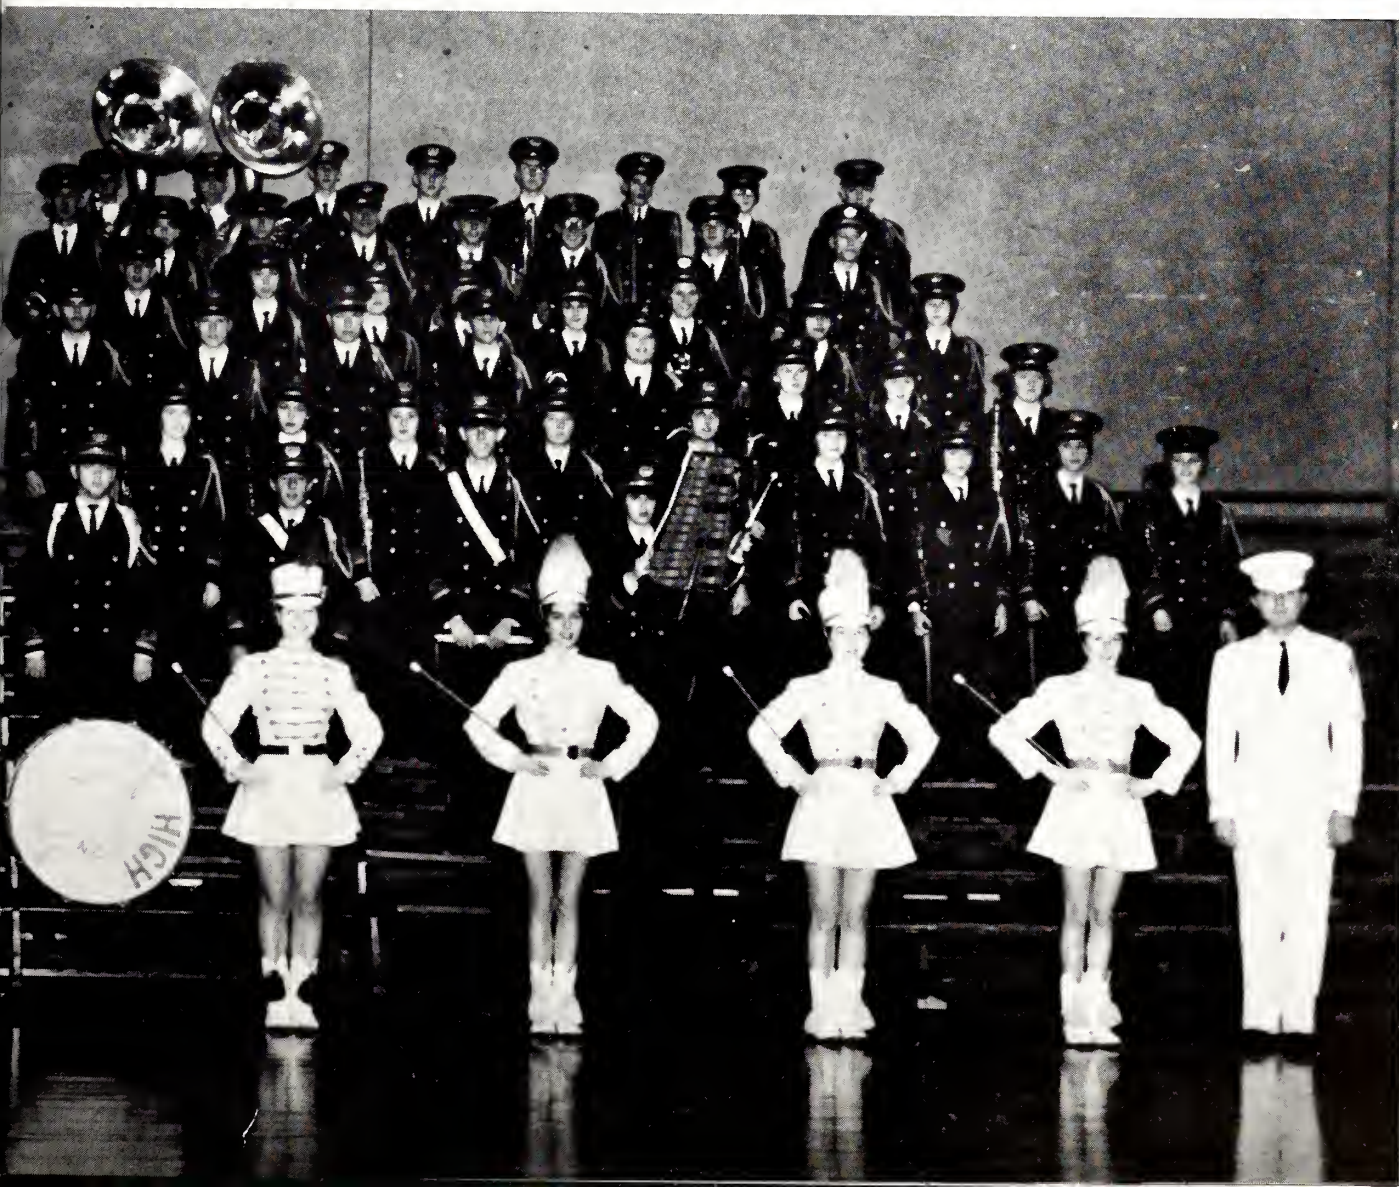

As the ACCOLADE goes to press, Mr. Babelay and his group are hard at work attempting to achieve the kind of musical perfection which will bring creditable performances at these major events.

CHOIR

Under the direction of Mr. Raymond Babelay, and accompanied by Charles Burt at the piano, the voices of the sixty members of the all-girl choir were heard on many occasions during the year. They made many personal appearances singing for church organizations, school groups, and civic clubs. The exceedingly large variety of music selections enabled the choir to render beautifully both popular and classical music, but the most exciting experience of the choir's year was the presentation for the first time of the new school song, our "Alma Mater."

Le Cercle Francais

Organized four years ago, the purpose of Le Cercle Francais is to cultivate further interest in the French language and in the people and customs of France. The only qualification for being a member is to be currently enrolled in either the first or second year French classes.

The officers, B. Lee, President; B. Raines, Vice-President; S. Saleeby, Secretary; C. Gregg, Treasurer; and B. Timberlake, Program Chairman, met at the first of the year to plan the year's agenda. With the capable guidance of Mrs. George Warren and Miss Jewel Gay, faculty advisers, the club enjoyed a successful year.

Their first money-making project was the making and selling of blue and gold pompoms. The club met together several nights to make them. To further raise funds to defray club expenses, they held a basketball concession in January.

French Club participates in Homecoming Parade.

In December, the senior members of Le Cercle Francais met at the Golden Weed Restaurant for a dinner party. The climax of the evening occurred when a former French student at East Carolina College came in and spoke French to them.

The members of the French Club feel that with the world situation as it is today, language barriers need to be torn down more than ever. They enjoy learning about the French people because in learning about them, they can further understand them; and in understanding them, can do their share toward bringing about world peace.

F. B. L. A.

Activity and growth seemed to be the major features of the Future Business Leaders this year.

Under the competent leadership of Mrs. Jean Harriss, the F.B.L.A., of over one hundred and thirty members, progressed more in growth than any other chapter in the district. F.B.L.A. chapters were founded at Saratoga, Black Creek, and Atlantic Christian College by the Fike Chapter.

In August, the new members were inducted and the newly elected officers were installed during a banquet at Parker's.

The Club sponsored several projects during the year. The first day, a "Welcome-to-New-Students" campaign began the year's activities. At Christmas, the club helped a needy family. Members issued a supplement to last year's student directory for the benefit of sophomores and new students.

Prior to the F.B.L.A. Variety Sale, club members plan to canvas Wilson.

F.B.L.A. members enjoyed the annual induction banquet at Parker's. Officers installed were: Jerry Owens, President; Jo Benton, Vice-President; Eleanor Temple, Secretary; Alice Rodgers, Treasurer; Betty Jean Lucas, Reporter; Edna Earle Patterson and Jane Sawrey, Co-Historians.

The monthly meetings in the Round Room brought many good speakers. Talks on such subjects as "Business in Everyday Life" and "Public Speaking" continued to make the club a success. In March, the members attended the three-day F.B.L.A. convention in Durham, where they entered different contests to test their business skills.

In meeting the budget goal, the members sponsored a house-to-house variety sale.

February brought the traditional Valentine Dance at the Moose Hall. The Club entertained over a hundred members and guests.

The F.B.L.A. has many aims for developing the business leaders of tomorrow. Each member tries to keep the club motto: Service . . . Education . . . Progress, so that in later years he will be able to compete in the business world.

Patterson, Lucas, Rodgers, Owens, Temple, Benton, Sawrey.

The F.T.A. officers are L. Miles, treasurer; G. Barker, secretary; M. Graves, president; Mrs. Crawley, adviser, and C. Edmundson, vice-president, a junior who will move up to the presidency next year, according to the club's constitution.

The teaching profession comes in for its share of interest and influence when surveys are made of vocational preferences. Choosing the right career is a challenge when the "Time of Decision" comes—S. Boyd, G. Barker, Miss Thorne, and P. Bridgers realize this.

The F.T.A. club is made up of juniors and seniors who wish to become teachers. The purpose of the club is to learn the requirements and opportunities of teachers. Programs and speakers show the importance of special training, character, personality, and methods of good teachers. Mrs. Ethel Crawley and Miss Doris Thorne are the advisers of the club. Ordering college catalogues, decorating a Homecoming float, assisting with College Day, boosting the teachers' morale, and having a spring banquet highlight the activities of the year.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

"College Day" signs come out of their wrappings when the junior girls, P. Windham, S. Forbes, D. Daniel, K. Webb, and S. Harriss, prepare to place them to guide students and college representatives to their meeting places.

Every year at Christmas each teacher receives some little token from the F.T.A. to bring cheer to them on the last day before the holidays. This year little red and green bells bearing each teacher's own name lent a festive air. I. R. Walston, B. Timberlake, and S. Forbes pin bells on Mr. Babelay, Miss Hunter, and Mr. Marklin.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club is an organization whose main objectives are to advance in learning and to broaden in culture. The members strive to strengthen international good will and gain more knowledge about the Latin American countries. The membership is made up of students who work toward bringing our southern neighbors closer to them and try to create a more friendly atmosphere.

The membership of the Spanish club consists of sophomores, juniors, and seniors. A meeting is held twice a month during the school year and at Christmas, a banquet is held. Everyone thoroughly enjoys singing Spanish songs and breaking the pinata, which contains various types of candies.

As an extra means of raising funds, the members sold felt school pennants bearing the letters R.L.F. H.S. in blue and gold, the school colors.

The Spanish Club is advised by Mrs. Kathleen Patterson and Mrs. Miriam Dunn, a new teacher this year. Working cooperatively with them are the officers: president, Dottie Bullock; vice-president, Larry Gage; secretary, Sally Forbes; and treasurer, Preston Askew.

SCIENCE CLUB

Creating and furthering interests in science is the purpose of the Science Club at Fike High School. This organization is affiliated with Science Clubs of America and under the supervision of Mrs. Betty Abernathy, Mrs. Ella Beaman, and Mrs. Nellie High, the club has become a growing organization with an ever widening horizon for the future.

At all of the meetings outstanding speakers, with their fascinating lectures and demonstrations, have been thoroughly enjoyed by all the members. When the first meeting was held, Mr. Bridgers from the Southeastern Research and Testing Laboratories discussed the uses of the calorimeter. Other outstanding speakers have been Dr. Haubrich from East Carolina College; Dr. McFarland, Dr. McCain, and Dr. Bill Clark, all of Wilson. Dr. Haubrich intrigued the audience with his discussion of genetic progression. Dr. McFarland and Dr. McCain discussed the effects of alcoholism. Dr. Bill Clark talked about the broadening fields of work in the medical profession. Certainly this club has been worthwhile for the members and its activities will "vibrate in the memory."

S. McPhail, Treasurer; A. Wooten, President; E. Bullin, Vice-President; C. Bailey, Secretary; officers of the Science Club with the advisers, Mrs. N. High and Mrs. B. Abernathy.

F . H . A .

The main purpose of the Future Homemakers of America is to prepare young girls for their responsibilities as future homemakers.

Throughout the year, speakers come to give advice on such personal subjects as good grooming, social graces, personality development, and subjects pertaining to home and garden improvement.

Having a winning booth at the county fair, at which a money prize was given, and selling Christmas cards furnished the income for this year.

In September activities began with a county rally and picnic at the Rock Ridge High School. Judy Wood, a junior in our school, was at that time installed as a county officer. Next on the agenda was the district meeting in Goldsboro at which Judy Cubberley was elected State Secretary. These elections brought wide acclaim to the two girls, the Fike High Chapter of the F.H.A., and also to the school.

At an installation banquet, Alice Shepard was made president; Sue Forbes, vice-president; Judy Cubberley, secretary; Eleanor Temple, treasurer; Shirley Stokes, historian; Janie Bostick, song-leader; and Mary Thomas, reporter.

At the annual Mother-Daughter banquet, Mrs. Mildred Bullard, the adviser, let the girls prepare the banquet.

There are approximately one hundred thirty interested members, who come from the sophomore, junior and senior classes.

In an assembly program, the F.H.A. promotes good will.

Dr. Allan Sharpe briefs the F.H.A. girls on dating problems.

Christmas cards for sale are exhibited by N. Holt, E. Patterson, and C. Bunn.

A local beautician demonstrates good grooming.

OFFICERS: Shepard, Forbes, Cubberley, Temple, Stokes, Bostick, Thomas.

OFFICERS: M. E. Dunn, Secretary; W. Murphy, President; B. Lee, Vice-President; B. Raines, Treasurer.

Honor Society Members S. Forbes, B. Lee, D. Bullock perform some of their self-appointed duties.

The purposes of the National Honor Society are to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in the students of Ralph L. Fike Senior High School.

Membership is limited to Junior and Senior students who maintain at all times a 3.5 scholastic average and who meet the approval of the faculty.

Organized last year for the first time under the supervision of Miss Clyde Hunter, the National Honor Society has inspired students to strive for higher scholastic achievement.
